1) The location

- The Pavillon is a social-cultural centre in the inner city of Hannover.
- It was founded in 1977 by a citizens' initiative.
- Their origins can be found in critical discussions with new social movements in the 1970ies and 1980ies.
- Since then the Pavillon is a multi cultural centre which offers a broad variety of cultural events and performances such as concerts, theatre, comedy, cabaret, literature and lectures.

4) The topic

„Social Work leading towards Social Justice and Sustainability“

Main questions:

- What does sustainability mean in terms of social work? To what extend is (or is not) social work sustainable today?
- In which way can social workers contribute to achieve more justice regarding human rights, poverty, health and well-being, education and gender issues?
- How can principles and strategies of empowerment, participation and networking be beneficial to improve the current situation?
